Swine Day held

The annual FFA Swine Field Day was held at Wilson's Landing in Appomattox on Oct. 2. Approximately 260 FFA members and guests attended the event.

Richard Jones, Appomattox Senior FFA president, welcomed all members and guests. Dr. McInnis from VPI showed a series of slides on herd health procedure and demonstrated the methods of vaccinating swine. Jonathan Pickett showed a filmstrip on castration of hogs and then demonstrated on pigs supplied by Wilson's Landing.

Bill Jones, with Central Fidelity Bank presented a talk on record systems and management for a commercial swine operation, as well as the future outlook of agriculture economics.

Barney Allen and Frank Sweet, both VPI Extension Agents, then discussed selecting swine for breeding stock.

The Appomattox Senior FHA prepared and served lunch. Each person present went on a guided tour of the facilities at Wilson's Landing. A swine judging contest was then held in the sale barn. The first-, second-, and third-place teams were, respectively: Randolph Henry, Staunton River, and Greene Co. Top scoring individuals were David Mitchell of Randolph Henry, Ronald Sanderson of Jefferson Forest, and Marshall Plymall of Staunton River.

Central Fidelity Bank supplied all prizes for the judging contest and rain gauges for all present. The FFA thanked all those who assisted with this event, and expressed special thanks to John Wilson, who allowed use of his facilities for the past four years.
